Burra Creek Campground - October 3rd 2008 until October 6th 2008.

Burra Creek Gorge is a large campground located 23kms out from Burra South Australia on the Robertstown to Burra road.

Fri 3rd October 2008: After being off of work sick for the last two days and with Sally ready at the wheel, we left for Burra Creek Gorge wondering if we were doing the right thing by going away. It was a wintry and windy 2 hour drive to our destination which was now covered with low grass going to seed which is normal for this time of the year.

It was the same time last year that one of our dogs went home from this location with what we thought was a grass seed stuck in between two toes. By the time we arrived the weekend crowd was building as this is a very popular camping area. Bruce and Maree were not long behind us and soon arrived to share what was going to be a weekend of rest and relaxation.

Sat 4th & Sun 5th October 2008: The weekend weather was now on the improve with more sun shining as the day progressed. We were surprised to see the number of campers arriving and leaving during the entire weekend with a constant turnover of visitors. It was interesting to hear that there was one group who had been coming to the same location for the last 15 years with no intension of stopping.

Mon 6th October 2008: With scattered rain showers during the night and into the morning, we decided to pack and head for home before our intended departure time of just after lunch making it soon after 1.30pm when we arrived home after a windy trip.
