Clare - 24th April until 28th April 2008.

Clare and the Clare Vale Winery district can be found 135 kms north of Adelaide in South Australia.

Thurs 24th April 2008: After completing night shift for the week and a quick sleep, it was 11.14am as we left home making our way to Clare via Mallala and Balaklava as the road this way seems to be flatter with less pitching than going via the Main North Road. It was only an hour and a half trip on the road before we were at the Clare Caravan Park and starting to set up on our site for the weekend. Soon after 1.00pm Sue & Malcolm arrived with Bruce & Maree arriving at approximately a quarter to five.

Fri 25th until 27th April 2008: As forecasted, the weather was closing in with the cloud cover slowly but surely building up. After our successful chicken & champagne breakfast last weekend at Melrose, we thought we would give it a go again this weekend and as expected it went off well. As the rain got closer, we knew that we were going to have to erect the walls on our awning to give us somewhere to sit and keep dry but like most humans we had to wait until the rain started before we did the walls. Nothing like playing in the rain to get wet when we could have done it before hand. By now the slow pace of the weekend was starting to be accepted with short walks with the dogs being the hardest exercise that anyone did.

Due to work commitments, Bruce & Maree headed for home on Sunday morning leaving us to enjoy one more night before returning home. Late Sunday morning we had our final heavy downpour for the weekend before the sun shine for warm and fine periods during the afternoon. It was time for another walk to see how different things looked with a bit of water laying around. It also gave us an opportunity to check out the Caravan Park's camp kitchen.

Mon 28th April 2008: Most of the rain had now cleared, it was time for us to pack up and head for home. It was a quick good bye to Sue & Malcolm and it was on the on the road to home and back to work by 3.00pm.
